2nd Annual Kingston Coho Derby

Fishing enthusiasts and nature lovers are gearing up for an exciting day of competition and camaraderie at the 2nd Annual Kingston Coho Derby, scheduled for September 16, 2023, from dawn until 2:00 pm. The rules of the competition are straightforward: the first fish caught by each angler will be their official entry into the derby. All contestants will rush to the waters in the early hours of the morning, hoping to reel in that prized Coho salmon to secure their spot in the race for the grand prizes. The top three prizes are nothing short of impressive, with the first-place winner taking home a handsome cash prize of $2,500. The second-place angler will walk away with $1,500, while the third-place finisher will be awarded $750. Additionally, a thrilling element of surprise awaits as the "Mystery Fish" category winner will be granted $500 for their exceptional catch. There are only 150 tickets sold, so don't delay!!!

Whether you're an experienced angler or a novice hoping to try your luck, the 2nd Annual Kingston Coho Derby promises an unforgettable day of fishing, community spirit, and adventure. So mark your calendars and prepare your fishing gear for September 16, 2023, for a memorable experience in the heart of Kingston. See you there!

Salish 100 in Kingston

- July 25th was a great day at the Port of Kingston! We are fortunate to be one of the stops for the Salish 100. This unique event is 100+ boats cruising 100 nautical miles—the full length of Puget Sound—from Olympia to Port Townsend, WA. It is not your typical sailing regatta with sleek, high-performance yachts racing in a highly competitive environment. Instead, it is a gathering of small-boat enthusiasts who come together to share their love for traditional sailing and rowing vessels. The fleet comprises an impressive array of boats, including SCAMPs, Whitehalls, wherries, sharpies, melonseeds, and flatiron skiffs. Among them are smaller production sailboats and dozens of home-built creations, showcasing the ingenuity and passion of their owners.
- The Salish 100 is more than just a sailing event; it's a celebration of tradition, craftsmanship, and the spirit of exploration. It harks back to a time when small boats were the lifeblood of coastal communities and were used for fishing, transport, and exploration. In an age dominated by speed and technology, this event reminds us of the simple joy of being on the water and the sense of achievement that comes from sailing a small boat through challenging conditions.
- The Salish 100 is a captivating adventure that combines the thrill of sailing with the beauty of nature and the warmth of friendship. It encourages the art of boatbuilding and fosters a love for traditional seamanship, ensuring that these skills and values are passed on to future generations. As the fleet of small boats weaves through the intricate waterways of the Salish Sea, the skippers and crew members create memories that will last a lifetime. It's an event that reminds us of the enduring allure of the sea and the rich history and culture that surrounds small-boat sailing. Whether you're an experienced sailor or a newcomer to saltwater boating, the Salish 100 offers an experience like no other, leaving all participants with a profound appreciation for the sea and a newfound kinship with fellow sailors.
