Toth Property Open

We are excited to announce the Toth Property is now safe and open to the public once again! Safety, as always, was our number one concern. The potentially dangerous trees have successfully been removed.

We appreciate your patience during the closure!

A couple of basic Winterizing items to consider

Boat or RV

Drain fresh water system, add propylene glycol (non-toxic) to avoid frozen plumbing. Combining portable heaters with a dehumidifier is the best way to keep mold and mildew at bay, whether you live on your boat/RV or close it up for winter. A dehumidifier will need to drain into a sink with an open drain or into sump with an automatic discharge pump. A shower drain / sump works well. Draining to a shower sump will keep the water out of the bilge and avoid unwanted fluids from discharging overboard. Remove bedding & empty closets, fabric holds moisture and molds quickly. Space heaters must have a grounded plug and tip-over protection. Please call my cell number if there are questions regarding preferred methods for winterization.

Serving what matters today with a view for tomorrow.

Christmas in the Cove was a huge success!!! To our invaluable volunteers, we extend our deepest appreciation for your unwavering support and hard work. Your countless hours of preparation, creativity, and contributions have not only brought the magic of Christmas to life but have also forged stronger bonds within our community. Your commitment to spreading joy has left a lasting mark on the hearts of those who have had the pleasure of experiencing the holiday spirit at Christmas in the Cove. This event would not be possible without the direction of Kaili Roest, the Executive Director of the Greater Kingston Chamber of Commerce, and her dedicated team, as well as the Kiwanis, the Rotary, and of course Danny Vernon and his wife, Marcia. A very special THANK YOU to Peggy Krause and her team of creative, talented volunteers...Hollace Vaughn, Juli Swanberg, Dee Peterson, Jan Johanson, Kate Doden, Patty Tompkins, Peggy Barnett, Shannon Horner, Beckie Panzero!!!

As we step into the New Year, let us carry forward the spirit of generosity and unity that defined "Christmas in the Cove."
